Texas 10 Race Management and Mach 5 Racing Partner To Offer Coaching Services

THE WOODLANDS, TEXAS (June 15, 2016) – Texas 10 Race Management and Mach 5 Racing have partnered to offer coaching services for all Texas 10 Series races. Mach 5 Racing will serve as the “official coach” of the Texas 10 Series for the remainder of the 2016 Texas 10 Series and the spring events of the 2017 Texas 10 Series.

Runners will be offered the opportunity to select coaching services for a predetermined fee for the 10 mile and 5 mile distances. They will have the opportunity to receive a discount when registering for an event and a training plan. There will be the basic plan that includes a free “Training Peaks” account and prepares the runner for successfully completing the event. Additionally, there will be custom plans that include a more extensive plan with personal interaction with Mach 5 Racing coaches.

“We are looking forward to our partnership with Mach 5 Racing”, stated Willie Fowlkes, President and CEO of Texas 10 Race Management. “Michelle LeBlanc is a coach with some of the highest credentials and a leading expert in the field of coaching active lifestyle athletes. The programs created will offer runners the opportunity to try something they did not think possible or set personal records that seemed unachievable. Adding programs like this to the Texas 10 Series will only enhance their experience even more.”

“This is a great opportunity for Mach 5 Racing to partner with one of the best new running race series in Texas and the country”, according to Michelle LeBlanc, Owner and Coach of Mach 5 Racing. “We look forward to our partnership with this series, as it offers the perfect distances for runners of all ages and abilities. The race venues are fantastic and the race management team puts on some of the best events in the country. Athletes are fully supported and motivated when they run and we are excited to help runners prepare for the variety of race options this series provides.”

The Texas 10 Series, whose mission is to help promote the advancement of running while supporting the community with positive benefits, is a premier running race series in its fifth year that is hosted in seven different Texas cities. Over the course of the first 5 years, over $75,000 has been raised and donated to non-profits and volunteer groups.

“The Texas 10 Series has seen an average growth of 50% in 2016 across the spring events, seen a new series record in the men and women’s field and projects growth to continue at 40% through 2017”, according to Fowlkes. “The 10 mile distance looks to be the new trending distance as the half marathon reaches capacity with dates and venues across the country.”
